Gut publishes original papers and reviews concerned with practice and research in the field of gastroenterology. The field is that of alimentary, hepatic, or pancreatic disease, and papers may cover the medical, surgical, radiological, or historical aspects. They may also deal with the basic sciences concerned with the alimentary tract, including experimental work. The report of a single case will be accepted only if it is of sufficient interest in relation to a wider field of research.

COMMUNICATIONS Two copies of papers and figures should be addressed to the Editor, Gut, BMA House, Tavistock Square, London WC1 9JR. Papers are accepted only on the understanding that they are not published elsewhere without previous sanction of the Editorial Committee. Manuscripts should follow the Vancouver conventions (see Br Med J 1979; 1: 532-5. Gut 1979; 20: 651-2). They should be in double-spaced typewriting on one side of the paper only. On the paper the name of the author should appear with initials (or distinguishing Christian name) only, and the name and address of the hospital or laboratory where the work was performed. A short summary should be provided at the beginning of the paper.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF MANUSCRIPTS Manuscripts will not be acknowledged unless a stamped addressed postcard or international reply coupon is enclosed.

ILLUSTRATIONS Photographs Unmounted photographs on glossy paper should be provided. Diagrams These will usually be reduced to 2½ in wide. Lettering should be in either Letraset or stencil, and care should be taken that lettering and symbols are of comparable size. Illustrations should not be inserted in the text, they should be marked on the back with Figure numbers, title of paper, and name of author. All photographs, graphs, and diagrams should be referred to as Figures and should be numbered consecutively in the text in Arabic numerals. The legends for illustrations should be typed on a separate sheet. Tables Tables should be numbered consecutively in the text in Arabic numerals and each typed on a separate sheet.

ETHICS Ethical considerations will be taken into account in the assessment of papers (see the Medical Research Council's publications on the ethics of human experimentation, and the World Medical Association's code of ethics, known as the Declaration of Helsinki (see Br Med J 1964; 2:177)).

SI UNITS All measurements except blood pressure are expressed in SI units. In the text they should be followed by traditional units in parentheses. In tables and illustrations value are given in SI units, but a conversion factor must be supplied. For general guidance on the International System of Units and some useful conversion factors, see The SI for the Health Professions (WHO, 1977). Such conversion is the responsibility of the author.

REFERENCES These follow the Vancouver system - that is, references numbered consecutively in the text and listed numerically with titles abbreviated in the style of Index Medicus, Standard journal article - (list all authors when six or less; when seven or more, list first three and add et al): James A, Joyce B, Harvey T. Effect of long-term cimetidine. Gut 1979; 20: 123-4. NB: Accurate punctuation is essential.

CORRECTIONS other than printer's errors may be charged to the author.

REPRINTS Twenty-five reprints will be supplied free of charge. Further reprints will be available on payment of the necessary costs; the number of reprints required should be sent to the Publishing Manager on the form provided with the proof.

J. M. Polak, S. R. Bloom, N. A. Wright, M. J. Daly

Contents:

- Section 1 Electronmicroscopy of the Gastrointestinal Tract
- Section 2 Autonomic Nerves of the Gut
- Section 3 Adaptation, Pathophysiology of Intestinal Response to Disease

This new book covers exciting advances in the field of gastroenterology. In the second section of this book consideration is given to basic anatomical, ultrastructural, developmental and experimental aspects as well as clinical implications of the enteric nervous system. The final section deals with adaptation of the gastrointestinal tract.

Consideration is given not only to the morphology, function and regulation of the intestine but also to the clinical implications.

The contributors to this volume are all experts in their own field and together comprise a formidable body of expertise.
