It is regretted that a phrase was omitted in the last sentence of the last paragraph in column 1 on page 410 of the paper ‘Gastric ulcers, blood groups, and acid secretion’ by H. Daintree Johnson, A. H. G. Love, N. C. Rogers, and A. P. Wyatt (Gut, 5, 402-411). The sentence should read: ‘Overwhelming of mucus secretion by an excessively prolonged rather than an excessively powerful acid-peptic attack may be all-important in these cases.’
